What do you particularly enjoy about studying this subject?
I enjoy doing Psychology because you learn interesting parts of why we behave this way and there are fascinating studies behind this to support it.

How much work is involved? (hours in lessons / outside of lessons)
Based on lessons, we do 4 hours of Psychology a week. Outside of college, when it comes to revision I do 2 hours on most days and for my homework I always try and do it to the best of my ability so I take around 1-4 hours depending how much there is. (Overall 8 hours a week).

How are you assessed and how regularly?
We are given mini assessments when we finish a topic/unit. So quite regularly and it’s really useful as we go through any questions we got wrong together as a class.

What support have you received and is support available if you don’t understand something?
In every one of my subjects there is always support. In Psychology, there are online tutorials and they go through the topic you are struggling on and answer as many of your questions until you understand it. Also the teachers’ emails are always open and they always reply as soon as they can!

Have you received careers support and what are your future plans?
We get plenty of careers support through our emails, our PAT and teachers. In the future I am hoping to become a Criminal Defence Lawyer.
