I really enjoyed my time at Carmel. It wasn't without its challenges but the support provided by my tutors was amazing!

"I am currently studying Law at the University of York. I find my course really interesting and all of the tutors have been incredibly supportive in the transition from A Level study to degree level study. Everyone is really friendly and the university organised a great variety of events to help us to settle in.

I got used to university and being away from home much quicker than I thought I would. It's not always easy but if you get involved with as much as you can and make the most of every opportunity to meet new people, hopefully you will love university just as much as I do."
