

Jack yates

Games Journalism

Class of 2017 Alumni

Higher Education

Games Journalism
and PR Staffordshire

Studied at Carmel

English Lang	A
Media Studies	A
Statistics	A

High School

North Cestrian School

My time at Carmel gave me a real confidence boost. I made more friends than I had expected, given that I have Asperger's Syndrome. I received lots of support from teachers and was also encouraged to take part in extra-curricular activities.

"After finishing at Carmel, I applied for a place at Staffordshire University, where I studied Games Journalism and PR. I loved my time at University thanks in no small part to the knowledge of media creation I gained at Carmel.

Shortly after graduation I landed a full-time Journalism job working for Brick Fanatics (brickfanatics.com), a LEGO news site and registered member of the LEGO Group's ambassador network and have been writing there for over a year. My work includes news, features and reviews for LEGO sets and models. This career is nothing short of a dream job for me and I wholly believe that this journey started with Carmel College."

carmel college

A PLACE TO IMAGINE.