Tech Lead BJSS

Class of 2018 Alumni

There are many paths to where you want to go, and finding them may require a slight change in perspective; failure is a part of growth, try to keep your determination through those times; constant introspection is key to success.

"I felt much more at ease getting hands on and building computer systems, and so I began an apprenticeship in computer science shortly after, it was a great programme that I found really taught me the fundamentals I was looking for. From there I moved onto become a Software Engineer at TalkTalk which really taught me a lot about backend development, and lead me to where I am today, working as a Tech Lead at BJSS, one of the leading technical consultancies in the UK."
