Carmel University Centre

The college is looking to recruit an enthusiastic and highly motivated individual to join Carmel University Centre. The HE team consists of a Dean, 2 Assistant Deans, Degree Course Co-ordinators, Academic Advisors and teaching staff. The Team are responsible to the Dean of HE.

The HE Team work in Carmel University Centre within Carmel College. We have around 300 HE students each year studying on our Foundation Year Programmes. We offer Foundation Years for Science & Engineering Programmes (including computer science) and for Health & Veterinary Sciences. Students who meet the criteria progress directly onto Year 1 of their chosen degree course. The University of Liverpool is our partner institution; this successful collaboration began in 1996. We welcome a diverse student cohort of local, national and EU students. Our emphasis is on outstanding learning, teaching and student support preparing our students for HE success.

Students are treated as individuals and encouraged to become independent learners. The successful candidate must therefore be able to relate effectively with students and have the ability to motivate and encourage them to succeed. Generally, each member of staff is responsible for the delivery of the whole specification to a group and will contribute towards enrichment.

The successful candidate will be welcome to join our dynamic, well-resourced team and add their own flair and enthusiasm to the teaching of HE Computer Science at Carmel College.

The successful candidate can also apply for University of Liverpool Honorary Teacher Status.
